

INVITATION & PROGRAM

On Friday 27th September 2019, the KNCV Working Group Separation Science will organize the Summer Meeting 2019, sponsored by company Axel Semrau. Lecturers from universities, research organizations and industry will highlight their research on novel techniques and applications in GC, HPLC and CE.

This one-day meeting will take place at Hogeschool Arnhem Nijmegen – HAN.

Program:

09.30 - 10.00	Registration with coffee/tea
10.00 - 10.30	Automised Sample Preparation and Analysis of 2-MCPD, 3-MCPD and Glycidyl Esters Marielle Salden, Nofalab
10.30 - 11.00	Design and validation of IC-MS for chemical profiling of inorganic explosives Carlos Martin Alberca, Nederlands Forensisch Instituut (NFI)
11.00 - 11.30	Electroextraction-based sample preparation strategies for enrichment of low-abundant metabolites Peter Lindenburg, Hogeschool Leiden
11.30 - 12.00	Coffe/tea break
12.00 - 12.30	Looking back at 25 years of GC×GC development in Amsterdam Jan Blomberg, Shell
12.30 - 13.00	SherLOK: forensic profiling of suspects through hair analysis of life-style markers Ana Miguel Pego, Avans
13.00 - 14.00	Lunch
14.00 - 14.30	Titel to be concluded Govert Somsen, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam (VU)
14.30 - 15.00	Implementation of ion mobility spectrometry into a micro GC for sulfur analysis in natural gas Henk Top, DNV GL
15.00 - 15.30	Under construction: the future analyst; trends in developing laboratory staff John Hageman, Avans+
15.30 - 16.30	Closing and drinks

Cost: This meeting is free of charge, but registration is required.

Location: HAN, Laan van Scheut 10, 6525EM, Nijmegen, the Netherlands; Room F2.59

Parking: There is limited underground parking under the building, and otherwise under the Kapittelweg. These parkings are connected to each other underground.

Public transportation: Nijmegen Heyendaal train station is only a 5-minute walk from the location.

Registration: You can register only by e-mail at Dr. Sjaak de Koning: secretaris.WGS@davinci-ls.com
Deadline for registration is: 19 September 2019

Sponsor of the event:

